Inductee #15

Arthur J. Glatfelter

Insurance Executive

York, Pennsylvania

Born: December 12, 1924

Died: February XX, 2013

A veteran of World War II, Arthur J. Glatfelter was the founder of the Glatfelter Insurance Group in York, Pennsylvania, which includes VFIS, an agency devoted to the insurance, education, and training needs of emergency service organizations. He became a philanthropist, using his resources to help others in the York area and throughout the fire service. VFIS is a sponsor of many programs and awards, working through organizations such as the National Volunteer Fire Council, the International Association of Fire Chiefs, and the Congressional Fire Services Institute.

Mr. Glatfelter was an early supporter of the National Fallen Firefighters Foundation, and for many years underwrote the cost of producing television broadcasts, crews, and post-event videos for all families.
